be skinned and butchered. If a dead animal is brought in by truck, a winch and cable pulls it from the truck bed to the slaughter room. Hounds are fed in a metal trough which is also easy to hose clean.

Hounds are walked out for exercise there are no earth or grass yards which are a feature of so many kennels in this country. Even though there is enough labor available to clean such yards daily, they inevitably become infested with worms, mites and fungus.

Although saving time and labor is an important aspect of kennel design, it is still not so important as the health of hounds. Undoubtedly the best argument for this plan is that the Blue Ridge hounds during the 16 years which they have occupied these kennels have not had a single case of distemper, of hepatitis or of any of the other canine diseases. There are no fleas or rats and no kennel lameness. Worms have been cut down to a minimum. Except for minor skin troubles in the odd hound at infrequent intervals, there have been no health problems. Quod erat demonstrandum.

FOXHOUNDS AND BEAGLE KENNELS

Over a period of several years there have been many requests from readers of The Chronicle for architectural plans of a practical kennels, suitable for foxhounds or beagles. Accordingly we publish elsewhere in this issue the plans of the kennels which have housed the Blue Ridge hounds since 1944 when they were constructed under the supervision of your Editor. The problem was to provide a building which would comfortably contain a pack of from 25 to 30 couple.

Economy being an important factor the kennels were designed to eliminate the space so frequently wasted by aiseways. Both to save labor and for reasons of health all floors are made of concrete and are sloped sharply to a system of drains, thus enabling one man to clean the kennels and hose them down in a comparatively short time. Other materials were selected so as to require minimum upkeep—the walls of concrete blocks finished with cement paint. To take care of hot summer weather the exterior walls of the building are 14 feet high. The yard walls are 8 feet high, surmounted by woven wire attached to metal posts in the form of a Y, enabling the wire to be sloped both inwards and outwards; this keeps hounds from jumping out and cur dogs from jumping in. The interior walls of the building are also 8 feet with wire above for better ventilation. In 1944 iron boiler plate provided the most practical doors; many would choose aluminum to-day.

Wood still remains probably the best material for hound benches, and only in the coldest weather has it been necessary to cover them with straw in order to keep hounds warm. Wooden platforms have also been placed flat on one side of the yards for hounds to lie on. Ample water hydrants are an important feature. The iron pots or boilers to cook flesh and cornmeal are fired by bottled gas so that they can be left unattended at night and while hounds are being hunted or walked out. The combination of these labor saving devices enables one professional to act both as huntsman and kennelman. There is a cooler for storing flesh for periods of a few weeks. Corn meal and dog meal for expectant bitches and to fill in gaps when flesh is unobtainable, are stored in metal garbage cans to avoid attracting rats. Over the combination feeding and slaughtering room is a metal tripod (pipe) with a chain hoist to sling up a knacker so that it can

International Pony Class

Dear Sir:

I read with interest your editorial in The Chronicle of April 22 on the international pony class, together with the extracts from letters which have appeared in "Horse and Hound". I personally have never approved of "exploiting" the American market in the manner suggested by Mrs. Sellar and Mr. Tilling. I think that if the nations are interested in children's ponies on either side of the Atlantic, and the methods of showing them, it is obvious that they will buy from one another if they feel inclined to do so. There is already a very big demand for children's ponies of all descriptions in this country, and as far as I can see, no need to make such a song and dance over looking for a wider market, particularly in view of the cost of transport, which is a serious deterrent to international trade in ponies - from either side.

I certainly agree that it is not only a good idea but great fun to have international competitions. It is quite understandable that the American Horse Shows Association has decided not to send a team to compete in England this summer in view of the very large expense involved in financing the United States Equestrian team for the Olympic Games in Rome.

Ballyhoo in Baltimore

Raleigh Burroughs

The ancient village of Baltimore, which doesn't get excited about anything but the Colts, was just about crazy over horses during Preakness Week. It was almost like Louisville, except that the hotels didn't treble their rates on Thursday.

Gold and black drapes brightened up lamp posts in Mt. Vernon Place, newspapers devoted sections, not columns, to the race and its trimmings and groups of out-of-town reporters bore down upon the bawdy bistros of The Block.

Louis Feustel, the gent who trained Man o'War to win the 1920 Preakness, was in town and happily reminisced upon his days with the Wonder Horse.

Parties, tours, art exhibits and informal get-togethers popped up on all sides. Store windows showed pictures of horses, sign boards carried invitations to the races and the back side of the taxicab in front reminded that the added money for Pimlico's most important event was 150 grand. Every time you turned on the radio, the band was playing "Maryland, My Maryland", and a pleasant voice was telling you that you could get into the infield on Preakness Day for one buck.

It was like old times. Pimlico's bustling public relations department gave the old town a good shaking up.

Preakness Day was gloomy and muggy, and the fellow who handicaps the weather predicted there'd be thunder showers in the afternoon. Like many other selectors, he was partly wrong. Rain came in the morning and after the last race. No one was drenched in the infield.

Possibly the unattractive meteorological aspects held down the infield crowd to some extent, but observers guessed that 2,500 to 3,000 one-dollar clients swarmed the greensward.

After Mrs. Doris Riley had won the Powder Puff Preakness on Vagabond Scholar, a touch of class was added to the ceremonies when a caravan of buses drove up the stretch and stopped as near as possible to the winner's circle.

First to debark was a gentleman attired in gray frock coat and pearl-gray topper - just like at Ascot.

He was identified (incorrectly) at once as the Earl of Chutney. He supervised the unloading of his party - about 150 strong - and escorted them to his ground-floor penthouse in the infield. Several other members of his outfit were suited up in Ascot gray, but most of them looked like ordinary well-dressed people. Word got around that it was a band of Britishers who had started out for Laurel's Washington D. C. International, last November, and tarried at a tavern on the way.

Wrong Conclusion

That conclusion was completely erroneous, and the gent conducting the party wasn't the Earl of Chutney at all. He was Mr. Martin Welsh, Baltimore restaurateur, who would have fought the man who called him a Britisher.

Mr. Welsh's guests had a large red-and-white-striped tent to protect them from the elements, and sat at tables shielded by large umbrellas.

Ever mindful of public safety, the Pimlico management confined the picnickers in a pen or run, which allowed them plenty of room for exercise; and not one broke out all afternoon to bother people.

After the last race, Mr. Welsh's chartered buses again paraded on the track and the host personally made sure that every member of his group was properly loaded.

It was a happy, singing crowd that rolled away from Old Hilltop, counting their money and wondering if they could afford to go to Mr. Welsh's for dinner.

Some hours - or maybe some days - before the Preakness, Mr. Octave Crosby arrived in Baltimore with his Dixieland Jazz Band. No matter where you turned, there was Mr. Crosby, a native of New Orleans, playing "Maryland, My Maryland" and "When the Saints Come Marching In." He was in the downtown hotels, the pressbox at Pimlico and in the infield.

Mounted on a large horse-drawn float, the Dixielanders toured the turf course entertaining casual visitors with their melodies, but disturbing the thought processes of scientific selectors.

Bettors Missed Tip

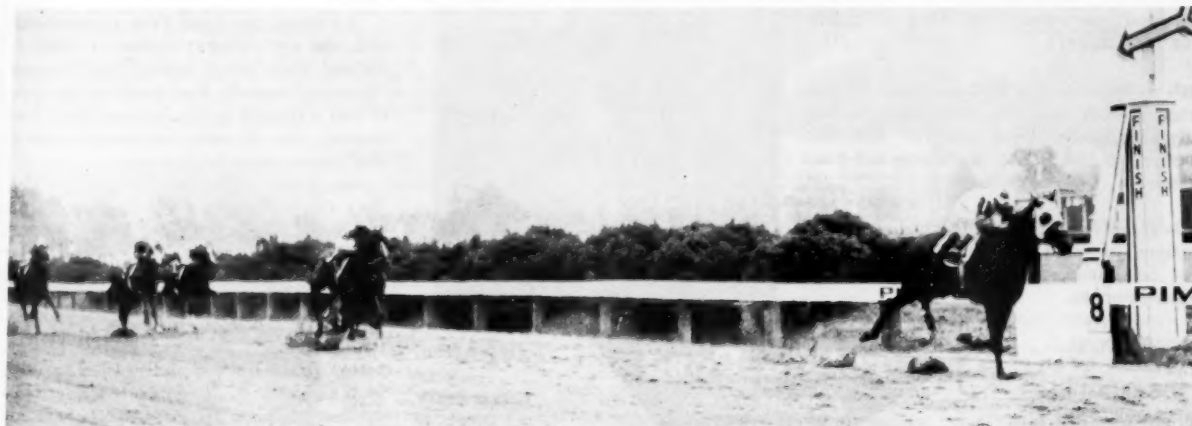

There was one big difference between the Preakness and the Derby. Before the Churchill Downs race, Mr. James Pitt, trainer of Bally Ache, was everywhere and exuding confidence; before the Preakness, Mr. Vic Sovinski, was all over and bursting with assurance.

This should have been a tipoff to bettors, but it wasn't.

They made Venetian Way favorite for the Preakness.

After it was over, and Bally Ache had won, at least four of the five losing jockeys

Rose Tree Hunt Races

Chris Wood, Jr.

Without any special fanfare the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club, near Media, Pa., entered its second century of continuous racing on Saturday, May 21. Cloudy skies and humid weather did not deter the crowd of some 5,000 which filled the grandstand and overflowed along the rails and into the infield of the famous dumbbell-shaped course.

It was a day of upsets and the favorites failed to get the job done in the co-featured Rose Tree Plate, a 2-mile brush handicap, and the Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate. Contested over a 3-mile timber course, the latter set the scene which snapped the winning streak of Randolph D. Rouse's Ricacho.

Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate

Seeking a 4th and successive success, the 'chaser from Arlington, Va., was one of 4 contestants and highly favored to win the timber feature. Ridden by Joseph L. Aitcheson, Jr., who rode Alfred H. Smith's Grand Chal to win the last three runnings of the race, Ricacho got no further than the 1st of 22 timber fences. First away from the starting tape, Ricacho was leading into the initial barrier when he failed to rise. Crashing through all of the packed rails, the gelding pitched Aitcheson to the ground. The popular rider was removed to the Crozier Hospital in Chester, Pa., with a reported shoulder injury.

Following the mishap, Eugene Weymouth moved Eastcor, owned by his father, George T. Weymouth, to the fore and held sway for the balance of the journey. His leadership was not an easy one, as Valley Hart, under the veteran timber rider, E. H. (Tiger) Bennett, challenged in the final stages and Mrs. Walter Stokes' Aquitime Play pressed the eventual winner until the 15th fence. The latter fell over the mentioned fence, sending rider-trainer William King to the ground clinging to a set of broken reins. King was not injured in the mishap.

Unable to shake Valley Hart, Eastcor negotiated the final fence just a head in front of his nemesis. Plying the leather, trainer-rider Eugene Weymouth inched his mount ahead to gain a 3/4's of a length decision. Absent from timber competition for some time, Tiger Bennett received a rousing accolade for the excellent ride he gave Mrs. Duvall's 'chaser.

Bred by his owner, the 8-year-old gelding by Cormac-Eastborough won his 2nd race in as many starts in 7:30 3/5 over soft turf. On the preceding Saturday, Eastcor broke his maiden over timber with a victory in the Thomas Stokes Memorial Challenge Cup at the Radnor Hunt Club's meeting.

Rose Tree Plate

A field of 8 'chasers accepted the issue in the Rose Tree Plate, a 2-mile brush handicap. C. Mahlon Kline's Gridiron, top-weighted under 160 pounds, was favored to repeat his victory of 1959. However, at the conclusion he had to be content with a rear view of the Barclay Stable's *Ballybrittas, under 144 pounds.

The eventual winner was last over the 1st brush jump, where Montpelier's Kintampo, F. Eugene Dixon, Jr.'s *Antonino and Gridiron led the pack as named. Kintampo held sway for a trio of fences, where he relinquished the leadership to Gridiron, who was being pressed by Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Out of Reach. As the field approached the 8th jump, Thaddeus R. Trout's *Chicago 2nd showed a burst of speed and passed the mentioned pair to show in front by 3/4's of a length. Following this moment of glory, he dropped back to be supplanted by Out of Reach.

Improving his position throughout, *Ballybrittas became a definite threat as the field approached the 12th and final jump. Over this obstacle it was Out of Reach by a scant neck, with *Ballybrittas 2 1/2 lengths in advance of *Chicago 2nd. Gridiron was 4th, a neck behind his stablemate. Responding to Evan Jackson in the run for the wire, the Irish-bred 'chaser drew away to win by 3 lengths. Closing well in the stretch, Gridiron got up to nose out Out of Reach for place honors. Kintampo, the early leader, fell over the 11th fence while running 7th, bothering T. J. Albert's Yes in the mishap. Jockey J. Mahoney, a recent arrival from Ireland, was not injured in the spill.

Nicely brought up to a winning race by trainer Thoburn Smith, *Ballybrittas made his 2nd start of the season a winning one in 3:38. On the preceding Saturday, the 8-year-old gelding was 4th in a 1-mile turf race.

As usual the Rose Tree races opened with the Agricultural Stakes, a short 6-furlong race which stems from original "farmers' race". One would be hard-put to find a farmer in the current Rose Tree country, so the non-sanctioned event is now open to area landowners.

Much the best of the 9 contenders, Mrs. Jack Grabosky's *Villena took the lead at the break and improved her position throughout to score by 5 lengths under James Wyatt. Best of the balance, William Crosson's Jerseyville was 2nd, 1-length to the good of T. A. Antoine's Problem Lad. The French-bred winner, better known for her ability over hurdles, is trained by E. B. (Duke) Stewart, who divides his time between the polo fields and race courses. The "about" 6 furlongs, which is closer to 5 furlongs, was negotiated in 1:07.

Racing Review

Easy Mark

Pimlico
The Preakness

The 84th running of The Preakness had a $150,000 added purse. Run on Saturday, May 21, the 3-year-olds were required to go its traditional one and three-sixteenths miles. Starter Eddie Blind sent out six candidates for the second jewel of the "Triple Crown." Sunny Blue Farm's Venetian Way was tagged as the favorite. However, Turfand's Bally Ache had post position number one, was number one at the quarter and stayed in that position all the way to be number one at the finish. Windfields Farm's Victoria Park came in for place money four lengths behind the winner and one and three-quarters of a length in front of Green Dunes Farm's Celtic Ash, the show horse. Llangollen Farm's Divine Comedy was fourth, two and one-half lengths further back. Venetian Way was fifth and C. R. Mac Stable's T. V. Lark in the caboose position. The winning time was 1.57 3/5 over a track that was deep but rated fast.

Bally Ache is a bay son of *Ballydam out of Celestial Blue, which is by Supremus bred by the Gaines Brothers. H. J. Pitt was the winning trainer and R. Ussery, the winning rider. The second jewel of the "Triple Crown" was worth $121,000 net and it gives Bally Ache a total earning of $664,527.

The aftermath of the race found willful Willie Hartack in the doghouse with Venetian Way's connections. Trainer Vic Sovinski stated that Hartack let Bally Ache steal the race as the first quarter was run in .24 1/5 and the half in 1.38 2/5, "rocking chair" time according to the trainer. Willful Willie countered that the horse was sore. Needless to say, that relations at "the summit" were severed and according to Mr. Sovinski willful Willie will not ride for him again. Everybody was sore including the investors of mutual tickets on Venetian Way.

Bally Ache's time of 1.57 3/5 for the one and three-sixteenths miles was three seconds slower than Nashua's mark for this race. However, the Morning Telegraph's chart caller reported Venetian Way's performance as follows: Venetian Way, prominent without need of early pressure, was roused in an effort to stay within striking distance of Bally Ache on the final turn and flattened out badly."

Aqueduct

The "Big A" unfurled its 66th running of the Fashion on Wednesday, May 18, a five furlongs allowance stakes with $15,000 added for two-year-old fillies. It drew seven starters and the bettors made Brookmeade Stable's Sailor's Vision an odds-on favorite. They were disappointed as jockey R. Broussard rode Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Apatontheback to a three-quarter length victory over Sailor's Vision. Mrs. A. G. Vanderbilt's Waddle was third and Meadowbrook Stable's Destiny's Turn, fourth. Apatontheback's time for the five furlongs was .58 1/5 and it equalled the track record.

She is a bay daughter of Olympia out of Delta Queen, by Bull Lea, bred by Danada Farm (Mrs. Ada L. Rice), G. Trout trains her. It was her fifth outing for 1960 and her first stakes victory. Apatontheback now has three victories and one third for a total of $16,850. Her dam, Delta Queen, is the producer of the good winners Olympic Queen, Beautillion and Yankee Do.

The Acorn

Thirteen 3-year-old fillies held the spotlight at Aqueduct on Saturday, May 21, in the 30th running of The Acorn, a $50,000 added scale weight stakes at one mile. Jockey Headley Woodhouse rode Wheatley Stable's home-bred Irish Jay to win by a neck over H. A. Grant's Airmans Guide. Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Sister Antoine received

MAN O' WAR PLANK FENCE

30 Year Guarantee! — Better Without Paint!

A worthy companion for Everdure's famous
Hercules Post & Rail Fence

Acclaimed as the best-looking and strongest plank fence there is! Also it is the most economical, particularly in installation! No cap- or face-plates are needed. The 10'-long panels mean 25% fewer post-holes to dig. Spirited horses, fence-running, won't hurt themselves as the planks are smooth and continuous—there are no sharp corners.

Don't "paint the lilly". The smooth surfaces would make painting easy but no painting is necessary for appearance or preservation. Think of the saving, which averages $.02 1/2 per foot per year.

Posts are 6" half round and the planks are 4 1/2" half round—over 2" thick instead of a scant 1". They won't warp and horses won't chew!

Each plank has two small holes in each end and is supplied with four galvanized, tough-stock, drive screws to make an easy strong assembly. The 30-year guaranteed life, and saving in erection, make Everdure's Man o' War Plank easily the most economical plank fence there is, besides being the best!

Everdure has other fences to meet every need, such as the aristocratic and formal-looking HERCULES POST AND RAIL, which has everything round, smooth and tenoned together. This fence is sturdy, handsome, makes beautiful curves, and fits in anywhere for paddock or lawn.

Everdure Inc.

CHESTNUT REPLACEMENT FENCE is for people who like the rough informality of an old chestnut rail fence but one which will endure through the years and not require constant repair. Everdure's 30-year fence has chisel-pointed, hand-peeled rails fitting into slot holes in the posts. The color is a charcoal grey. It looks like it might have been made by Abe Lincoln out of black walnut.

Horses won't crib on Everdured wood.

If frisky colts break through an Everdure fence, the planks or rails will break off short without deadly splinters, and Everdure will furnish repair parts free for the asking.

As many out-of-state horsemen are still unacquainted with Everdure, we are offering, temporarily to absorb all or a considerable part of the trucking cost. Besides, our prices are low, as you can buy directly from the factory!

Order now and get ahead of the new price list.

Tell us what you need, with a sketch plan if possible, and we will make suggestions and quotations. Remember Everdure's 30-YEAR GUARANTEE of a free replacement for any part that fails from rot or termites.

ROMAN COLONEL

If you want to get yourself real confused some time when you have nothing better to do, try to unscramble the relationship between Roman Colonel and his breeder and his owner.

The animal is owned by Mrs. Margaret Louise Hines who races under the name of Silver Creek Farm. If you look up the breeding of Roman Colonel, you will find that he was bred by Silver Creek Farm. That's fine so far, but when you go a little farther into it, you find that the owner of Silver Creek Farm when Roman Colonel was bred is not Mrs. Hines who races as Silver Creek Farm. The owners of the Farm are Mr. & Mrs. E. Wortman.

The way all this happened was that Mr. & Mrs. E. Wortman had a daughter who married a man named Hines. The Wortmans gave their daughter Roman Colonel and she races under a nom de cours which is the same as the name of her parents' farm.

I'd like to see some lawyers get hold of that one. They can complicate even a simple transaction like buying a load of hay. Can't you imagine the fun they would have in a workman's compensation suit involving the shipment of a yearling from the farm to the stable.

PENNSYLVANIA RACE HORSE HISTORY

Pennsylvania has played an historic role in the breeding and developing of American bloodstock.

The first race horses (*Tamerlane and two mares) imported to North America were brought from England to Philadelphia by William Penn in 1699. Races were conducted along Sassafras Street in Philadelphia until 1726. This thoroughfare is today known as Race Street. In 1760 a Jockey Club was formed in Philadelphia and race meetings held at Centre Square. These races were the only ones ever held in America the results of which were published in the English Racing Calendar.

During Colonial days a race in Philadelphia between Selim and True Briton, with 4-mile-heats, created as much national attention as the Nashua-Swaps series. Two other famous, early Pennsylvania performers were First Consul and Iroquois, both bred in Philadelphia. The latter was bred by Aristides Welsh at his Erdenheim Stud, Chestnut Hill. Iroquois was the first American-bred horse ever to win the English Derby and St. Leger. Never Say Die is the only other American horse to have accomplished this feat. Iroquois became America's leading Thoroughbred sire. George D. Widener (Chm. of Jockey Club) now owns the Erdenheim Stud.

TOUT TIPS TOP MAN

Talk about talking out of turn, consider the plight of the poor racetrack tout at Fort Erie, Ontario, not too long ago. This gentleman with 'the sure thing' sidled up to a potential-looking customer standing near the paddock enclosure. Leaning over he whispered in the customer's ear: "Say, mac, wanna make a bet on a sure thing? This next race's fixed and this is your chance to clean up a couple thousand. Now here's the pitch....."

Just then the recipient of these glad tidings turned briskly on his heel to face his benefactor squarely. The 'sucker', much to the tout's regret, turned out to be Col. K.R. Marshall, Jockey Club chairman. E. O.

TAILS OF WOE

At Fort Erie, about ten or twelve years back, a minor furor erupted when someone discovered that some unscrupulous better was endeavoring to influence the outcome of the races by tying horses' tails to the starter to ensure a slow and painful 'break'. Since the discovery, there have been no reports of a predominance of bob-tails winning at Fort Erie. E. O.

BALLY ACHE SOLD FOR $1,250,000

A syndicate of 15 people headed by Joseph L. Arnold a Lexington, Ky., attorney and Robert A. Alexander 3d, of Bosque Bonita Farm, Versailles, Ky., has purchased the leading 3-year-old Bally Ache (Ballydam-Celestial Blue, by Supremus) for $1,250,000 from Leonard Fruchtman. He will continue to be trained by H. J. (Jimmy) Pitt.

KILROE LEAVING N.Y. FOR CALIF.

Frank E. (Jimmy) Kilroe, director of racing and racing secretary of the New York Racing Association, has resigned as of the close of New York racing in 1960 to take an executive post at the Santa Anita Race Track in California. Mrs. Kilroe's poor health and the beneficial health of the southern California climate was a major factor in his decision. Robert P. Strub, president of the Los Angeles Turf Club, Inc., which operates Santa Anita, has announced that Mr. Kilroe will serve as full-time director of racing.

VIRGINIA RACE AT AQUEDUCT

At the finish line of a recent race for 3-year-old maiden fillies at Aqueduct, Virginia horses occupied the first four places - 1. Howell E. Jackson's home-bred Get To It; 2. Rokeby Stable's Hula Lou (bred by the Brookmeade Stable, also of Virginia); William Haggin Perry's Holy Catfish; and 4. Mrs. James P. Mills' *Miss Margaret, a first time starter.

1910 HITCHING RACK

Last season it seemed necessary to call attention to the danger of leaving horses standing in the village without hitching, and it seems specially necessary again this Spring. Automobiles are already running about our streets promiscuously, and even a horse that shows good sense and courage when assured by the presence of his driver, is scarcely to be trusted alone when a big machine comes bowling past. Just try to imagine what you would think of it if you were a horse. (From the Vermont Standard, Woodstock, Vt. of 1910)

THESE AUSTRALIAN JOCKEYS

It seems to be agreed that, collectively, Aussie reinsmen are the best in the world. The news that the McGrath stable is bringing in top-flight Jockey Bill Williamson buing the colony up to three in Ireland, 1960 - the others being Garnet Bougoure (O'Brien stable) and Ron Hutchison (Prendergast stable).

Far from their presence being resented in Ireland, they are being cordially welcomed by trainers, and public, alike. The apprentices like to study the methods used by these saddle experts, and while no two are alike, your Australian is a wonderful man at getting his mount under the wire - first. Everyone likes a winner, especially the horseplayers, who have had to take some bad beatings on account of faulty riding and judgment.

This Aussie invasion has been going on for a long time now. In recent years we have had the peerless Scobie Breasley, and the capable and taciturn Edgar Britt, both operating mostly in England. But I would account Bougoure as the greatest ambassador that "Down Under" ever had, so popular with all classes is he.

THE ORIGIN OF PLACE AND SHOW

The owners, and the thousands of horseplayers, who "collect" on placed horses owe a debt of gratitude to a smith - although at the time he collected nothing but abuse - who lived in the year of Grace, 1609. Until 1512, horse races were just run for the "Honor and Glory," but in that year the organisers of the well-known Chester (England) meeting offered a wooden ball as a prize for the winner. This was carried on until 1609, when the sheriff of Chester decided to put up a prize of a silver ball.

The first effort of the silversmith was turned down as being sub-standard, and his second attempt suffered a like fate. Eventually, his third product was accepted. Rather than let the other two go to waste the sheriff decided to give the best one to the winner and the inferior ones to the second and third. This was the FIRST occasion in which prizes went beyond the winner, and the tradition has been maintained ever since, spreading to every other sport, from horse-racing. So, the next time you cash in on your place and show tickets spare a thought for the unfortunate, maligned silversmith who started it all

DOPING SCARE IN ENGLAND

Some sections of the sensational press in England have been in their element lately with stories of a great doping ring that has come to light. It seems that the stories in many cases bear little reality to the facts.

A 66 year old ex stable lad, living in a cheap bed-sitter in the Berkshire training area, was interviewed by the police in connection with some powders that he was alleged to have sent to stable lads to make their horses run faster. As a result of these enquiries he shot himself. It is said that some letters were found in his room ordering the powders and a stable lad in one of the big racing stables is thought to be implicated. Nothing more is in fact known except to Scotland Yard, but from the mere fact that "Bandy" Rogers, the dead man, was eking out a bare living it is obvious that there is no truth in the stories about "wonder pills" and "infallible betting coups".

It is possible that in due course some arrests may be made.

GLOBEMASTER

The top priced yearling sold by the Fasig-Tipton Company at Saratoga last summer was a bay colt by *Heliopolis out of No Strings (dam of the stakes winner Nail) consigned by James L. Wiley of Middleburg Va., purchased by Leonard P. Sasso for $80,000 and named Globemaster. He finished second in his first start this year and then went on to win on May 2nd at Aqueduct by two and a half lengths.

HAROLD A. PLUMB PERPETUAL TROPHY - The Trophy Committee, G. H. Bostwick, John McN. Sullivan, and S. Bryce Wing, for the Adjacent Hunts Racing Association, has announced that the feature race at the Adjacent Hunts Race Meeting, Purchase, New York, will be a two mile Hurdle Handicap in honor of the late Harold A. "Brud" Plumb.

Brud Plumb, a familiar figure around Hunt Meetings, and starter for many years, died last May of a heart attack while starting the last race at the Purchase Meeting. His many friends have shared in putting up a trophy in his memory.

In addition to the Harold Plumb Perpetual Trophy, the program includes six hurdle and flat races with Pari-Mutual betting, at the Blind Brook Turf and Polo Club grounds.

NATIONAL LEADERS

The first ten national leaders from January 1 to April 30, 1960 are as follows: Leading Money-Winning Horses - Bally Ache ($211,800); *Amerigo ($185,032); Bald Eagle ($163,920); First Landing ($163,125); On-and-On ($150,135); Lin-mold ($131,800); Francis S. ($118,487); Tompion ($116,510); Yes You Will ($96,646); and Bagdad ($79,400). Leading Money-Winning Owners - C.V. Whitney ($243,759); Cain Hoy Stable ($233,175); Mrs. T. Christopher ($225,487); Calumet Farm ($217,952); Edgehill Farm ($215,620); Meadow Stable ($210,762); Llangollen Farm ($178,840); Harbor View Farm ($178,492); Mr. and Mrs. L.I. Nelson ($142,895); and M.H. Van Berg ($122,088).

17,126 THOROUGHBRED MARES

The 1959 edition of "Thoroughbred Broodmare Records" now being compiled records that the offspring of 17,126 broodmares competed on North American Thoroughbred race tracks in 1959, an increase of 1,215 over 1958 and the largest in history.

THE CHRONICLE

BREEDERS' SALES COMPANY

At the 16th annual meeting of members and consignors of the Breeders' Sales Company, Lexington, Ky., 4 Directors were re-elected to three-year terms - namely Howard E. Reineman of Crown Crest Farm; Charles H. Asbury of Hedge-wood Farm; Warner L. Jones, Jr. of Hermitage Farm; and Leslie Combs II of Spendthrift Farm. Officers of the Company re-elected were Dr. Charles E. Hagyard, president; A.B. Hancock, Jr., vice-president; and Leslie Combs II, secretary-treasurer. Reports were heard from general manager William S. Evans and executive vice-president George Swinebroad.

MONMOUTH HELPS AQUEDUCT

In a thoroughly sporting gesture, Amory L. Haskell, president of Monmouth Park, New Jersey, has made arrangements with Jimmy Kilroe, N.Y.R.A. Director of Racing, to stable about 100 horses at the former track for the balance of the meeting at Aqueduct.

MRS. STRASSBURGER'S ANGERS

Mrs. R.B. Strassburger, the American owner who breeds and races in France, recently won the 12-furlong Prix Hocquart at Longchamp, the standard French test for the French and British Derbys. Angers was leading two-year-old in France last year.

NEW CONTRACT

The Board of Directors of the Breeders' Sales Company has announced that its contractual agreement with auctioneer Tom Caldwell has been modified to eliminate an "exclusivity" clause.

Henceforth, Caldwell will be permitted to sell Thoroughbreds for any organization, an action termed "in the best interest of the industry, the sales company, and Caldwell" by the board members.

However, the Breeders' Sales Company will maintain first call on the services of the 31-year-old Ontario, Californian.

Caldwell will continue to represent the local non-profit cooperative in a public relations role on the West Coast.

For the past three years, Caldwell has served as one of the auctioneers at the Keeneland summer and fall sales.

GOOD AND PLENTY

What with all the foals to be registered these days, it is understandable that the registration department of The Jockey Club makes a blooper occasionally.

Anyway, in the fifth race at Aqueduct the day the Grey Lag was run there was an animal owned by Mrs. Ada L. Rice named Good and Plenty. That was also the name of the only steeplechaser in the Hall of Fame in the National Museum of Racing at Saratoga, and, as every child knows, the name of an outstanding horse is not supposed to be used again, even if it is more than half a century later. Tsk, tsk.

HUNTING

ROMBOUT HUNT, Inc.

Salt Point,
New York.
Established 1925, 1929.
Recognized 1931.

Wednesday, March 30. On this last day of our hunting season, a small field met at Kate C. Melville's, anticipating the placid type of day which is most common in late March. Mrs. Melville was moved to comment that evening, "If we had looked into our crystal balls first, we might all have stayed home." Meg Kay was hunting hounds in place of husband Bill, who was laid low by 'flu, with the assistance of her son Rob and Perry Davis as whipper-in. Hounds were cast first in the woods between the Melville farm and Plankenhorns', where a fox had been viewed the previous day. He was still there and was soon pushed out of the covert, going north to Horton's swamp, where he reversed and flew back south through Plankenhorns', hounds easily outdistancing the field. As we crossed Melville's, Peter Van Sant tally-ho'd a fox headed west, but a moment of listening convinced us that this was not the hunted fox. Coming out of Melville's huntsman and field could dimly hear hounds off to the southeast. Full speed down the road was essential, then a sharp turn to cross a soggy field on its edge, and rhythmic splashes as each horse negotiated a narrow rail fence in a stream now flowing over its banks. We flew on through the deep footing in the woods and out over an upstanding barway to find ourselves faced with the necessity of jumping our most thrilling drop jump - from the drop up-into the next field. A hairy fence at any time, it was made doubly difficult by the deep, holding mud, but the horses were all inspired and got to the other side, with the exception of three who were coming along more slowly and took a different route.

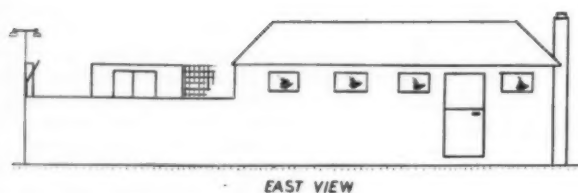

Half a mile further on, we again stopped to listen, and we were definitely closer to hounds. They had evidently turned at Smith Road and were headed back west, passing us a few fields away. Here Rob Kay decided to go east to send along any straggling hounds, and huntsman and field went west, still at a terrific pace. We learned later that Rob had gotten over by Smith Road, heard hounds still speaking on the east side, and went to join them in a lovely run through Litt's, Tompkins', and Hoffmann's before they marked their fox in at Hoffmann's. Rob then began the herculean task of catching up to the main body of the pack with his eight hounds. The rest of the pack had continued west until they again reached Melville's, where they swung south without a check, still flying and with great music. Another couple of miles of steady galloping and we reached Reed's to find hounds had gone to their noses in the woods. While Meg Kay rode forward to help her hounds, Perry Davis and the field stood on a little knoll to watch and give their horses a most welcome breather. At this point we had been galloping steadily for an hour and a half in the most abominable heavy going, with only brief stops to listen. Suddenly a handsome red fox slipped out of the woods about 400 yards from us and headed southeast. As we tally-ho'd we could hear Meg also shouting tally-ho about half a mile north of us. We sat there smugly for a couple of minutes, thinking how nice it was that we were so close and would have a longer breather before hounds got up; then we heard hounds roaring west and we realized that Meg had tally-ho'd the hunted fox while we had merely viewed an extra fox, so off we went again.

We had to take to the roads as we came out of Palmquists' since we were now in a very thickly settled area. Fortunately our pilot did not like civilization either and swung in a wide circle to head back north. Standing on Cream Street, we had a beautiful view of hounds boiling across a pasture, tightly packed, almost every hound speaking, with Dasher, a very fast and outstanding second-year hound, leading. From the pasture they went into a heavily-manured field next to the road and all hounds to work to puzzle out the line. We enjoyed about ten minutes of diligent hound work until Jinx, casting across the road, picked up the line and was off to the north. The few hounds near honored her, but it took a few more minutes to get the rest of the pack on the line, and now they were far behind their fox. Hounds worked quite slowly through Pitchers' into Briggs' and then moved eastward, all of them working, but it began to look as if the fox had gotten too far ahead. Suddenly we heard a tally-ho from the northwest, and hounds were taken along as fast as possible to where Perry Davis had just viewed a large dog fox coming out of the woods which we were just entering from the other side. Scent was hot again, and hounds screamed off into the Briggs-Hatfield woods, circled, and burst out the lower side to carry us back south at a hot pace before again being brought to their noses at Tokel's. They worked slowly northeast, and here huntsman and field separated in order to have the minimum possible number of horses jumping into Mr. Briggs' good hay field. The field made a large loop through pastures and rough fields to come out east of Mr. Briggs' house, where we found Perry Davis and about 2/3 of the pack, but no trace of Meg. We could see Bill Kay's car down on the road, and we decided to collect these hounds and take them down there to await further developments, as they were obviously at a loss. Young Bill Kay had been following in the car, but when we got down to Quaker Lane with the hounds, we discovered that he had gone home to tell his father what a terrific day we were having, and like a true huntsman, Bill Senior had arisen from his sick bed and had come to watch the fun from the car. While we told Bill all the details to date, Meg returned. It seems a few hounds had gone off very fast south from the woods, leaving the majority of the pack, which were the hounds we picked up when we emerged from the long way around. Meg had gone with these lead hounds back to Pitchers' before they lost, taking a hard fall when her horse slipped around a corner, probably due to the fact that he had lost a front shoe. We added her hounds to those already collected, and as the hound truck then came up, we decided to call it a very good ending to the hunting season. Hounds and horses were cooked from better than four hours of almost continuous galloping in very heavy going, hounds covering about fifteen miles and horses quite a bit more, since in addition they had to go around the edges of all good fields instead of straight across in order to avoid cutting them up. Those who started the day were Meg Kay, Rob Kay, Kate Melville, Bunny Southack and her young daughter Bobbie, Betty Rossell, Peter Van Sant, Sheila Melville, Perry Davis, and Courtney Howson. All were still there at the end of the day except Rob, Bobbie, and Peter, whose horses were not quite so fit as the rest. Grania

BRITISH POINT-TO-POINTS

There has been a good deal of comment in the north during this point-to-point season regarding ex-steeplechasers competing and winning races. This, however, is a natural part of the evolution of hunt races.

In our own time their character has been entirely altered. Point-to-points are no longer for half-bred hunters to be ridden over a natural country. Fences are made to resemble those on a steeplechase course. They are measured and passed by an official inspector. Racing colours are worn by the riders. Most of the horses competing are clean bred, and the whole set up and atmosphere is that of a race meeting.

It is well-known that, though nominally hunters, (and possibly regularly out with hounds), 7/10th of the horses competing are bought as 'likely to win a point-to-point,' and purchased as much (or more) with that end in view as carrying their owners to hounds.

Eighty years ago a Natl. Hunt authority saw the red light when he wrote of steeplechasing proper as well as point-to-points:

"What were the objects of steeplechasing? To ascertain which was the best of a dozen or more hunters carrying 13 or 14 stones from steeple to steeple, and to give hunting men an opportunity of riding against each other over natural fences. Now it is becoming a hybrid sport."

One ex-racehorse which has been winning point-to-points in the north, including this season's success at the Cleveland is Lady Anne Bowlby's well-bred Jacob (by Mieuxce, out of Spyado by Coronach). No objection can be taken to him. He was never trained for 'chasing. Pat Beasley had him at Malton and won the 1 1/2 m. Durham Stakes with him at Newcastle. He was found too hot and difficult to deal with for flat racing and was sent to the Newmarket Sales where he was bought with a view to hurdling. Soon after he appeared at Stockton Bloodstock Sales, where Lady Anne Bowlby bought him five years ago. This good horsewoman re-broke him and schooled him, got him quite quiet, and has found him a good hunter. He is a legitimate point-to-pointer.

Longreen Four Phase Hunter Trials

With the regular three phases scheduled, a Master's Class was added to the trials to test that most essential attribute of the "apparently most agreeable mount to hounds", manners in company and with hounds.

There were also two age divisions of hunter seat equitation over jumps. Participation in these held the added inducement of giving half the points earned therein toward the championship.

The dressage, won by Miss Joan Mooney of Nashville riding her Red Bud, was jury judged by seven local horsemen and women, and a numbers system of from 1 to 10 used on the various maneuvers, with scores averaged for placings. To rule out prejudice or radically divergent opinions, the highest and lowest juror's cards were not averaged in, if more than ten points from the next high or low card. This system was used in the Master's class and the equitation too.

The cross country phase, won by Jimmy Allen with his Hobo, was about two miles with 17 jumps and a set time of 7 minutes. Penalty points of 1/4 point per second were added for over or under time after 10 seconds either way.

Stadium jumping, won by Dinetia McCormick, was a somewhat "handy" type course of nine jumps with the same penalty faults as the cross country. In the case of ties (there were 71) there was a jumpoff against time over the same unraised course.

Joan Mooney also won the Master's Class which gave her enough points to be named Champion; reserve was won by Judy Hamner, who scored high in all phases though winning none. In this last class, only the eight high point winners in the previous classes were eligible and they rode as a hunting field behind the Master. The hounds were brought out by the staff in a simulated meet and hack to cover, and after they were returned to the kennel, the field worked under the direction of the Master and Jury Captain with checks, gallops, changes of pace, and were judged on manners only. It made a colorful and interesting class for the spectators and a reward for the eight who qualified. It did, however, show up a couple of horses who were better individual performers than they were agreeable in company.

The Junior equitation was won by Jack Erb and the Senior by Joan Mooney.

The Jury System was very well accepted by the exhibitors, but turned into a mountain of mathematics when 21 rode the dressage and we had to go on with other classes before we could make awards. There were ribbons and trophies in each class, in addition to championship points and a bulletin board was kept so that scores could be posted as completed. Another innovation was the allowing of championship bonus points to hunters at 1/5 point per hunt.

Schooling

Unfortunately rain had to dampen the ground, but not the spirits or enthusiasm of anybody that attended the first outdoor show of the season in the Westchester area. Needless to say, the day before and the day after dawned bright and clear but the morning of the show was most ominous with large rain clouds lurking overhead that exploded early, keeping many of the potential exhibitors home. Nevertheless there was a good turnout, and competition was good and quite evenly matched.

Paula Pfister of Cherry Lane Stables came across the river and ran off with the lion's share of blue ribbons. Showing in both the Green Working and Open Working divisions, she was never unplaced and ended up Green Champion and reserve in the large division to Wishful Thinking, owned and shown by Geoff Craig, who took a day off from Exeter to come home for the show.

In the horsemanship division the ribbons were well spread out, with Abbey Erdmann the only double winner, taking the under 15 as well as her first Maclay. Although never winning a blue, Lucy Cullman bided her time and waited for the last class, the Championship, to emerge victorious. She and Geoff Craig changed horses and Lucy received the judges' nod.

In the jumper ranks there were no championships awarded, but this didn't stop competition from being keen. No horse won more than one class, with Dave Kelley riding Mr. Midnite to the blue in the Knockdown and Out, but not until there were three jump-offs. Jack Rockwell, Ben O'Meara, Fred DiVecchia and Paula Pfister each accounted for a blue as well. As the show concluded the sun emerged and seemed to laugh at everyone for being so foolish as to show in the mud and rain.

Sleepy Hollow Country Club

It is always a pleasure to attend the Sleepy Hollow Show, and this year was no exception. There is always a large turnout, and spring is always heavy and new in the air, and this combined with a beautiful ring, good judges, and multitudes of horses makes for a keen day of sport.

There is only one championship offered, and this in the horsemanship division. Most of the equitation classes had to be worked off two or three times to produce a winner, but not so the championship which was won outright on her initial trip by Lucy Cullman. She bested Hank Minchin, last year's Maclay winner at the Garden, who came in for Reserve.

Big winner in the hunter classes was Ward Eight, a beautifully mannered chestnut stallion, which won the hack and the open hunters, and was second in the special course hunters. This show was the debut of his owner, Shirley Hugo-Vidal, in the jumping classes on the stud, and it was a joy to see him go around on a loose rein and jumping so effortlessly out of stride.

Other double blue ribbon and trophy winners were Katherine Boyer on Shirleye Weinstein's Another Foggy Dawn in the Open Jumpers and the Special Course Hunters, Sheridan Wienstein in the Bareback Horsemanship and the Pleasure Horses and then a third blue in the pairs as well.

The show was run very well and on time, and the whole day stands out as a memorable one in this writer's mind.

Syracuse P.H.A.

This show is held at the New York State Fair Coliseum, and was very ably managed by Mr. Dan Conway. Even though they added an extra performance this year, the entries were so large that we showed until after one in the morning Saturday night. There were over 40 in both the Green Working and Regular Working Divisions.

Mr. & Mrs. Henry Paxson's horses, from Hollicong, Pa., dominated both those divisions. Their lovely gray, Hands Down, was Champion Green Hunter with Diamond Bill, belonging to the George Sadlier's of Indianapolis, reserve.

The Paxson's well known Flint Hill was Working Champion, with their good grey Chappaqua tied for reserve with Lauray Farm's Princess Jack, with the first mentioned winning the toss for the reserve spot.

Lauray Farm's good little mare Mysterious, ridden by Christy Firestone, was Conformation Champion, with Party Girl, owned and ridden by Betsy Swan, of Rochester, reserve.

In the Jumper Division honors were well divided with some good jump-offs. In the long run, the Canadians came through with both Champion and Reserve, the former going to Mr. George Godin's Forest Echo, of St. Dorothe, Quebec, and Reserve to Bob Ballard's well known Windsor Castle. However, the Americans won their share of the classes, with Adolph Mogavero winning the Touch & Out with First Chance, and the P.H.A. with Man o'War Farm's The Cad, while John Vass won the F.E.I. with Oklahoma.

Much credit should be given the two hunter and jumper judges who put in a long Saturday, from 9 A.M. until after one in the morning.

Channel City

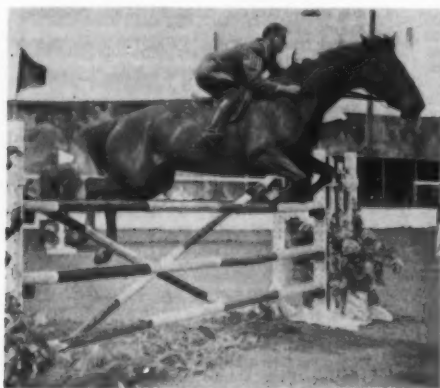

The fifth Annual Channel City Horse Show attracted exhibitors from all over California and several nearby states with a record of 427 horses entered. To keep this fast growing show to two days and nights, classes were shown simultaneously in the arena and warm up ring throughout the show, with events starting at 8 A.M. and continuing until about 11.30 P.M.

There were some fine animals in the hunter and jumper divisions; the most outstanding hunter being Mrs. Robert Mairs' Ace of Diamonds. This beautiful chestnut, a national champion in the east, but a newcomer to the western circuit won the Hunter Stake and became the High Point Hunter of the show. Ace of Diamonds also received the award for the High Point Horse of the show although actually he was not the High Point Horse. The honour went to a Western horse, Polka Dot owned and ridden by Mrs. Gerald Gray who declined to accept the award since she herself was giving the trophy. Ace of Diamonds earned 14 points and the Apaloosa acquired 19.

The largest single local exhibitor was 23 1/2 seconds. The next horse was Wilson Dennehy's Troublesooter a local horse who jumped clean again in 25 seconds. Tension mounted when the last horse to jump off entered the ring. This was Anytime, owned and ridden by Chris Borba of Oakland, Calif. This powerful horse also had a fast clean performance with the time of 21 1/2 seconds, thus winning the event by a time decision of 3 1/2 seconds and drawing much applause from the stands. Anytime, a new jumper to Southern California shows, tied for Jumper Champion and was named Reserve.

Several new classes were introduced in this year's show. The Barbara Worth Good Seat and Hands Class was used in place of the A.H.S.A. Hunt Seat Medal Class and consisted of a course of eight 3-foot jumps; the winner being qualified to compete at California State Fair Finals. The other introductions were the Welsh Pony Classes shown for the first time in a recognised California show. These little ponies, about 47" in height on an average and mostly greys, were imported about three years ago and are now being raised by Seamair Farms, Whiteoaks Farm and Mrs. David Wells, all of Santa Barbara.

Chris N. Borba, on ANY-TIME, tied for the jumper championship at the Channel City (Calif.) Show, but lost the toss-up to J. E. B. Wofford's Pat's Sister.

Mr. John Galvin's Rancho San Fernando Rey which entered horses owned by the ranch and others in training at the ranch with the U.S.E.T. The public appreciated the opportunity to see these fine horses ridden in both Hunter and Jumper events and shown by team members Buster Harty and Sean Galvin of Rancho San Fernando Rey. One of these animals, Pat's Sister, owned and ridden by J. E. B. Wofford of the U.S.E.T., won the San Fernando Rey Jumper Sweepstakes with a clean performance. This grey mare tied for Champion Jumper of the show and won the championship with a flip of a coin.

The F.E.L. Jumper Class was an exciting event with 28 entries, four of which had clean rounds. In the jump off the first of these four to go was Smuggler, ridden by Twinkle Watson and owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Michel, with 8 faults with 24 1/2 seconds time. This was followed by Chan Turnley who had had an excellent performance on his fast moving Sebastian but lost out on the jump off with 12 faults

There were some beautiful little ponies among them; the Pony Equitation Class and Exhibitions delighted the audience and gave the children a chance to show their skill on an animal of a suitable size for very small riders. However these ponies were not adequately schooled for the Pony Working Hunters, they were bewildered by the jumps and their entry in this class was premature. The class was won by a 14-hand pony from the Blakiston Ranch. C.M.L.

Blue Ridge Horse Trials

Ottershaw

The Fifth Annual Blue Ridge Horse Trials gave last year's Champion Trials Horse, Toy Ghost, a running start for he won the Open Division with a fair margin over the strongest field yet assembled in the East.

This year for the first time three Divisions were run - Open, Intermediate and Preliminary - under the rules of the new U.S. Combined Training Association. The large field of 37 starters established a record for Combined Training in this country, even though 4 more had to be refused because of time limitation.

Two dressage rings were in use simultaneously, one under the orders of Mrs. J. Sturrock of Monmouthshire, England and the other under Major M. Antoniewicz, former Polish Olympic rider and instructor. The cross-country course, this year measuring 2 1/4 miles for the Open Division, sported several new additions, notably a parallel bars strong enough to resist a bull, with a 5 ft. spread and a drop on the landing side. Results showed that it was treated with commendable respect! The other Divisions used shorter in the Intermediate. The Stadium Jumping course with continual changes of direction caused Kilkerry to have one down and a runout, while Pentathlon, displaying a rather sticky (first-time-in-a-ring) performance, knocked down only one. No other horse had a clear round over the 2-mile cross-country course, the Splash and the Open Water exacting the heaviest toll.

In the Open Division the best dressage test was that performed by Toy Ghost, very accurate but perhaps somewhat rigid. It was equalled by Sunnyfield Farm's chestnut Syphon (M. Mikkelsen) making a better general impression. Miss Woollard's Kon-Tiki followed very closely by only 6 points. Kon-Tiki is a great Badminton veteran and arrived in this country early this year. As expected he proved to be a first-class competitor and failed to win only by virtue of less speed in the cross-country than Toy Ghost and the slight margin established by the latter in the dressage test.

Syphon dropped from a contending position by a refusal at the Splash, but more so by his inability to match the Rosemary Woollard on Kon-Tiki, who placed well up in the 1959 Badminton (England) 3-Day Event, was second in both the Blue Ridge and Loudoun Horse Trials. She is here jumping a 3'6" log, down into the sunken road at the latter event.

versions of the same course, by-passing the more difficult obstacles, the Preliminary having a much reduced speed requirement as well.

Horses making their first appearance in Trials constituted the Preliminary Division. Miss M. Jennings' (Fairfield, Conn.) big bay gelding, Bold Timber, emerged as the winner by a 10-point margin over 2nd place Blue Wasp (Miss Sarah Willis). Bold Timber went ahead in the Dressage test and was never displaced. Not one horse had jumping penalties in the cross-country and 9 finished out of 12 starters.

Another first-time starter, H. S. Treviranus' Texas Thoroughbred, Pentathlon, carried first place in the Intermediate Division. Trailing Kilkerry, ridden by Denis Glaccum, the Essex Troop entry from Orange, New Jersey, by 12 points, Pentathlon pulled ahead in the cross-country with the fastest trip, even though no bonus points were offered for time. Pentathlon and Kilkerry had it their own way from the start, the latter placing second speed of the rest of the field. The cross-country test, however, saw Dr. J. M. Rogers' Eye Spring, the well-known Texas-born Thoroughbred, earn close to maximum bonus points, being 70 seconds early! Eye Spring thus shot up from 11th to 3rd place which he held to the end. Mrs. H. S. Treviranus' Archer was the only other horse to finish without jump or time penalties, gaining 5th place behind Miss L. duPont's second horse, Mr.

Mike Mikkelsen on Sunnyfield Farm's Syphon was equal first in dressage (open division) at the Blue Ridge Horse Trials, but lacked speed in the cross country phase.

(Allen - Middleburg, Va.)

THE CHRONICLE

Wister, who received only time penalties. It was earlier apparent that the cross-country course was not sufficiently difficult to present any real problem to these good horses and thus the dressage scores remained relatively decisive to the end. Eye Spring proved the exception, only by taking full advantage of the galloping stretches. However being the first trials this spring in the East, horses were not as fit as they will undoubtedly be later on.

Since there was not a single clear round over the Stadium Jumping course, one must assume that it exerted too great an influence on the overall scores. The unexpectedly large number of entries, especially from as far away as Connecticut and New York, is the best evidence of the growth of Combined Training as a sport.

SUMMARIES:

Open - 1. Miss L. duPont's Toy Ghost, 1.6 points; 2. Miss Rosemary Woollard's Kon-Tiki, 19; 3. Mrs. J. M. Rogers' Eye Spring, (Dr. Rogers) 37.4; 4. Mrs. H. S. Treviranus' Archer, 45; 5. Miss L. duPont's Mr. Wister, 48; 6. Miss B. Sexton's Count Alexis, 60.2.13 started, 10 finished.

Intermediate - 1. H. S. Treviranus' Pentathlon, 51; 2. The Essex Troop's Kilkerry (Denis Glaccum), 60.8; 3. C. B. Sweatt's Ramikaboo (Hans Senn), 82; 4. J. C. K. Shipp's Gibson (Miss Sue Cove), 91.8; 5. Al-Marah's Afmar (J. Muldoon); 6. Dr. J. M. Rogers' Star Salome, (Mrs. Rogers). 12 started, 6 finished.

Preliminary - 1. Miss M. Jennings' Bold Timber, 54; 2. Miss S. Willis' Blue Wasp, 64; 3. Mrs. B. Conrad's Coq de Jade, 65; 4. C. B. Sweatt's Primula (Hans Sen), 69; 5. David Semmes' Susan Melody, 75; 6. Mrs. W. J. Donovan's Figaro (Peggy Hall). 13 started, 9 finished.

Loudoun County Horse Trials

Ottershaw

A strong field of 30 horses participated in the 3rd annual Loudoun County Horse Trials held, as on previous occasions, on the rolling pastures of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Rogers, near Hamilton, Virginia, May 1st. The organizers have succeeded in making practically the entire proceedings visible from a hog's back in the center of activities.

Mrs. H. S. Treviranus on Archer was 4th in the open division of the Blue Ridge Horse Trials (where this picture was taken) and 3rd in the open at Elkridge-Harford.

(Allen - Middleburg, Va.)

Fresh from his triumph the week before at Blue Ridge, Miss L. duPont's Toy Ghost again led the Open Division, without extending himself unduly, to win by the comfortable margin of 25 points over the runner-up. This gives Toy Ghost a very good hold on this year's Trials' Championship. He is not scheduled to start again before meeting his competitors on his "home-ground" at the Vicnead Trials in Delaware.

Col. Charles H. Anderson, a member of the gold-medal winning U. S. Three-Day-Event Team at the 1948 Olympic Games, judged the Preliminary and Intermediate Divisions, while simultaneously, in order to save time, Col. Scherer officiated at the regulation ring for the Open Division. In the Preliminary dressage two horses stood out, David Semnes' Susan Melody and Bob Coleman's What-His-Name, placing in that order, the remainder lacking sufficient control. The straightforward, though cleverly designed, cross-country course of less than 1.5 miles, held no surprises for these "newcomers", 7 having penalty-free rounds and only 2 apparently not being up to the standard. Miss Jill Klein (Connecticut) astride Dr. Roger's Tall Chief moved into the lead, but with the only clear round in the jumping Test, Bob Coleman (What-His-Name) drew abreast for a tie. Miss Klein's better time cross-country however broke the tie in her favour.

Irregular gaits marked the dressage standard in the Intermediate Division, although the Essex Troop horse Kilkerry (Denis Glaccum riding) established here an early lead with the only steady performance in this group. This pair, Mrs. J. Sturrock on J. C. K. Shipp's Gibson and F. Harting Jr.'s Farnley Syrian had trouble-free cross-country trips. Though marred by a disobedience, H. S. Treviranus' Pentathlon had the fastest time by 24 seconds over the near 2-mile course. The 18 obstacles did not present an adequate measuring stick for the Intermediate horses as evidenced by the few jump penalties. The Stadium Jumping, however, appeared more demanding in comparison. Again Kilkerry, then with a 13-point lead over Miss Sarah Willis' Blue Wasp, had only one down to win in his Division with a total of 50 points. Miss Willis just managed to capture 2nd place with 57.8 points ahead of Ludlow Gaines'

Epi d'Or.

For the Open horses, all geldings as at Blue Ridge, it was a return engagement. Toy Ghost at once set a good pace with the low score of 27 points. A proper evaluation of all dressage performances in this Division was unfortunately made difficult by about half the horses incurring time penalties! It is rather hard to account for this phenomenon. Miss Beryl Sexton's reliable Count Alexis had a pleasing test, even though she incurred 58 points for 2nd place. Miss R. Woollard's gray gelding Kon-Tiki, both formerly of England, put in a very precise test, which probably could have been improved by more impulsion, for a score of 60. Miss L. duPont, with the large lead of 31 points could well afford to play it safe and narrowly averted a refusal at the sunken road. A single knockdown in the Jumping Test assured his well-earned victory.

Only close to maximum bonus points for time would enable Kon-Tiki to catch Toy Ghost, but the hilly country did not lend itself for this purpose, in spite of putting up the fastest time. Miss Sexton (Count Alexis) dropped out of contention when she had the misfortune to gallop into a wire fence adjacent to the course. Although she continued after the heavy fall, she obtained 56 time penalty points. This brought Dr. J. M. Rogers' fast Eye Spring into third slot which, however, he could not maintain through the Jumping Test, having one down and two runouts. Tom Taylor's Small Chance, ridden by Miss E. McElhinney had a spectacular trip, his dash being only exceeded by his daring!

The Open cross-country course, somewhat shorter this year, sported several new obstacles such as the solid double-board fence atop a rise with the landing out of the horse's view until he was in the air. Further along a rather tricky drop into a gully and immediately out onto a bank with a log set in front of it at the same height. Although no penalties were incurred here, the jumping style left a lot to be desired. Next was the new parallel bars and a downward slope which looked all the more challenging for its bareness. A stack of bright metal culvert pipes, reflecting the sun, failed to deter one horse, contrary to expectations. Again this year the famed sunken-road combination stopped several horses long enough to jump into it from a standstill! It was here that Small Change (E. McElhinney) touched down barely three times until he was out again, a chilling experience for the relaxed spectator. Even so, it speaks well for the standard attained by the Open horses to have made light work of this well-designed course. With such a large number of entries it requires most careful timing to fit everything into the available six hours before sunset, and both Dr. J. M. Rogers as organizer and Col. John Paxton as director deserve the credit for such a successful event.

SUMMARIES:

Preliminary - 1. Dr. J. M. Rogers' Tall Chief (Miss Jill Klein), 77; 2. Bob Coleman's What-His-Name, 77; 3. C. Little's Miss Morgill, 87; 4. A. Mackay-Smith's Hotspur, 89. 12 started and 7 finished.

Cedar Swamp

Our second annual horse show got off to a swell start with an increased number of entries. This year we added more hunter classes which seemed to please all the exhibitors.

Competition was keen in the Regular Hunter Division, which was decided on by a hack off between Robert Roemer's good going Tuxedo and Ronald Daleo's honest Mirabeau. The nod of the judges went to the former who also came in for reserve in the Model Championship.

Entries were heavy in the Green Hunter Division. Miss Marion Johnson's well trained horse, The Thief, captured both the Model Championship and the Green Hunter Champion, with the reserve going to Diane Charlson's lovely gray Najeeb. J.D.

Tryon Hounds

It was a hot day for Cutaways and Pink Coats but everyone turned out in their best for the annual Spring Hunter Trials held at Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Carmichael's Block House Hill. The course was trappy and took a handy horse to manipulate it correctly. There was a steep terrace and two blind ditches with a sharp left turn and a coop at the bottom. A good test for a "huntin" horse. Judge Mrs. George "Dot" Williams gave the nod to The Cotton Patch's Anthony, a 17:2 hand gelding in the Green class. Fox Covert Farm's Chance Lead came out on top in the Open hunter and gained a leg on the Pine Crest Trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. C.B.

Saddle of Honour

- Last July at the Royal International Horse Show in London, England, Hugh Wiley's Nautical won the Championship by accumulating the greatest number of points throughout the show. The award for this accomplishment was the "Saddle of Honour". The accompanying photograph shows the presentation of the saddle by H.R.H. The Princess Royal. Mr. Wiley is shown wearing the Sash of Honour for the rider accumulating the greatest number of points. (L. G. Lane Photo)

The other illustration shows Mr. Wiley and coach Bert de Nemethy with the saddle which they have presented to Zone 9 of the U. S. Equestrian Team of which Mr. Francis G. Coates of Houston, Texas is Chairman. Receiving the saddle on behalf of Mr. Coates is Cynthia Brants. The authorities of Zone 9 propose to auction off the saddle for the benefit of the U. S. Equestrian Team.

Dear Mr. Coates:

Last year, at the Royal International Horse Show in London, England, NAUTICAL won the Championship by accumulating the greatest number of points throughout the show. The award for this accomplishment was the "Saddle of Honor".

Mr. de Nemethy and I are most pleased to be able to present this saddle to U.S.E.T. Zone 9. It seems fitting to us, that this saddle should go to your Zone, since NAUTICAL, alias, INJUN JOE, PRONTO and PETER D'ORO is as western as the Alamo, itself.

We hope to see many of our friends from Zone 9 in Rome this summer at the Olympic Games and look forward to further financial help from your area as it is greatly needed to insure the future of the Team.

With best regards,

Sincerely,
Hugh Wiley

Maple Ridge

Much to the relief of the show committee, there was a week of dry weather before the show which dried up the grounds considerably. Some new jumps had been erected in the hunter course, the only one which caused several refusals was the ditch with a stake bound hedge on either side. On both days the ringmaster, Dr. John Gilray, wore his hunting pink and top hat, cutting a most dashing figure - something new in these parts. Another new innovation was the Light Harness class in which all types of buggies and gigs were represented pulled by a variety of breeds, a most colorful class. Thanks to the skillful decisions of the judge, the show was ended in good time on both days. Hooftacks

West Coast Regional Pony Club Rally

Elizabeth Friedlaender

The 1960 West Coast Regional Rally held during Easter vacation at Pebble Beach, can only be described as "the mostest" - the most beautiful weather we have ever had, the most clubs that have ever participated, the most youngsters, the most "casualties", the most difficult courses, the most enthusiasm and the most worn out adults!

Five California clubs participated - Rolling Hills (Los Angeles), Fresno, Pebble Beach, Los Altos Hunt and Santa Cruz - each sending a C and a D team. In addition we had four B's and/or Associates competing as individuals at B level - a total of 52 youngsters. Judges were Capt. Erland Nelson of the Wind-over Combined Training Center, Everett, Wash., chief judge; and Miss Hildegard Neill, Regional Supervisor of the Colorado clubs, stable management.

The children were housed at Asilomar, a state-owned conference grounds on the ocean's edge in Pacific Grove, adjacent to Pebble Beach and about a 15-minute bus ride from the stables. Dick Collins, owner of the Pebble Beach Stables, temporarily moved his entire stable operation to a large barn at the rear of the property and turned over the main stables and courtyard to the Rally - and ideal setup that added much to the quality of the affair.

Dressage

The C program rides opened the rally. In general the quality of the riding has improved greatly during the three years of regional competition. The judge was most generous in his appraisal of the rides. Only 10 points separated the highest scoring individual from the lowest, and only 12 points separated the highest scoring team from the lowest. Clearly, the program ride would have little influence on the outcome of the competition. Fresno took the lead with 100 points, Santa Cruz one point behind with 99, closely followed by Pebble Beach, Los Altos and Rolling Hills. Incidentally, this was Rolling Hills' first rally and they were further handicapped by having only three members on their team, one of which was riding a horse borrowed at the last minute.

The four B's and Associates rode the AHSA A-2 test. The performances were quite varied in their strong and weak points and none was particularly good. Again, the range of marks varied only 8.9 points from highest to lowest, Claudia Frisbie of Pebble Beach taking the lead which she was able to maintain throughout.

Cross Country Courses

The D's were shown their cross-country course in the morning while the other divisions rode. It was a charming route through the woods, leading over little ditches, fallen logs, banks, etc., to the cliffs overlooking the Pacific Ocean, where the waves dashed up against the rocky shoreline and the Monterey cypresses, bent into fantastic shapes by the wind, cling to the rocky points.

In the afternoon the D's presented their walk and trot program rides. The scores for this group had a slightly wider variation with 21.5 points separating the first team from the last. In general the "seat independent of the reins" was the exception in this division, but we doubt that any riders any time any place ever tried harder or put more honest effort into what they were doing. Fresno also went into the lead in this division, closely followed by Los Altos with Pebble Beach, Rolling Hills and Santa Cruz behind in that order.

At the same time the C's and B's were shown their cross-country courses and a testing 3-mile course it was, preceded and followed by roads and trails of one mile each. Starting over one of the lowered fences of the P.B. 3-Day Event course - it led through the woods, making use of all the streams, banks, ditches and slopes that were available. One very interesting section had some four or five obstacles, all within the space of about 100 yards. Coming down a steep slide, the rider was faced with a post and rail fence on an earth mound about 15 feet away from the bottom of the slide. He then crossed a road, dropped down a slope to a little stream about 4 ft. wide with a log over it close to the take-off side, and then up another slope, across a road and over a log about 2 ft. high placed at the bottom of an up-bank. At the top he made another turn, taking him down the bank, across another road and then jumped a rustic gate set in a permanent fence line, onto a road which led into a picnic area. Before leaving this area, the rider jumped one of the picnic tables and benches - ironically flanked with two trash cans which had painted on them in large white letters "REFUSE" - and a couple of horses could read and did! The scenic course wound back to the rear of the stable area where the rider jumped into one of the paddocks and came out again over a bank at the bottom of which was the continuation of the paddock fence. This was a fairly difficult obstacle for many of the horses, as there was no room to maneuver at the bottom of the bank if they refused. The bank and ground surrounding the fence were heavily overgrown so that the footing, though good, was deceptive looking. The B course in general followed the same route, only raised.

Cross Country Performances

The C and B cross-country commenced on the second day at 9 AM. The course proved that no one obstacle was out of line in difficulty, as the refusals which did occur were well distributed over the course. There were several clear rounds, as far as jump faults were concerned, and only three eliminations - two at fences and one for loss of course.

The speed for the course had been set at 14 mph which seemed reasonable beforehand. However, results showed that it was too fast for the twisty course following unfamiliar narrow paths through the woods, resulting in every rider receiving time penalties. This was particularly unfortunate with our plus point scoring system, where a rider gets a zero when his penalty points catch up with his plus points. A rider unable to negotiate the course at all also gets a zero. So we had the inequity of riders who got around the course with perhaps just one stop, ending up with the same score as those that lost the course or were unable to get around at all. Only the Pebble Beach team had four scores to choose from in this phase, two teams had two scores and two teams had only one score, which gave the P.B. "C" team a lead which no other team was able to catch during the rally.

In the B division likewise all riders received time penalties and there was only one clear jumping round by Brooks Busby of Santa Cruz. However, he not only incurred time penalties on the cross, but also on the roads and trails following, so that Claudia Frisbie, with only one stop and very few time penalties on the cross, was able to widen her previous lead by 21 additional points.

After this most exciting phase, five horses turned up on the casualty list, one each from Santa Cruz and Fresno with puncture wounds, another Fresno horse with a severe tear in the elbow region, a loss of shoe and strained tendon on a Rolling Hills horse and a tied-up condition of a Los Altos horse. All but the last named were unable to continue the next day.

The D cross-country had its excitement too - several lost babes-in-the-woods and particularly tense and sometimes hilarious incidents on the point over the ocean. For some of the horses this was their first glimpse of the ocean, and rather unsettling it was, too, with huge waves hitting the rocks and sending spray high into the air! One extremely resourceful youngster whose horse would do nothing but back up, finally turned the animal around and backed out onto the point, around the flag and then proceeded in the normal way back into the woods! Five were eliminated for either losing the course (despite enthusiastic, authorized help from adults), or for being unable to get their mounts between the flags of some obstacle. Two were really lost and ran out of time. Fresno won this phase too and strengthened their lead in the competition.

Stadium Jumping

The stadium jumping courses were excellent and certainly no more could be asked of the riders at their respective levels. The D course started with 4 barrels around which the rider had to "bend", then out of the ring over a shallow ditch, back in over a partially dropped rail of the ring fence, over a foot-high rail into the pen and out through a V-opening with no jumping rail; then over crossed poles followed by an over-turned small brush jump, to a barrel where a flag was picked up and carried to another barrel and deposited, over 5 poles on the ground, up onto a 15 in. high bank, turn around and come down to the finish. The leading Fresno team was able to get 4 of its riders around, Pebble Beach and Los Altos got 3 riders through. There were six eliminations and three clear rounds.

The C and B course included two wide impressive oxers, a combination composed of post and rails followed in two strides by a 3 ft. table bank, off the bank over a pole a foot higher, one stride and then a detour barricade; and a pen jump, entering the pen over a rustic double jump, a right angle turn and out through a V-opening with rail. The B course was higher and longer with a more difficult negotiation of the pen. Due to the cross-country course casualties and the eliminations on this course, no C team had three stadium scores to count! Only Santa Cruz and Los Altos had two scores - the others only one each. There were only two clean rounds, one by Santa Cruz and the other by Los Altos. There was one clear round in the B division by Alan Cobham of the Rolling Hills Club.

The rally came to its official end with a thrilling parade of teams, each behind its banner carried by the stable helpers.

Miss Hildegard Neill (Colorado Regional Supervisor) who judged stable management, makes formal inspection prior to rider competing in dressage phase. Rider is Hillary Smathers of Santa Cruz "C" team and horse Bamboozle.

Winner of the perpetual trophy and gold medals in the D division was the Fresno team, with Pebble Beach earning the silver medals and Santa Cruz the bronze medals. In the C division, Pebble Beach won the trophy and gold medals for the third straight time! Los Altos took the silver medals and Fresno the bronze. In the B and Associate division Claudia Frisbie of Pebble Beach most deservedly won the perpetual trophy and gold medal for the second time, having been first in every phase except the stadium jumping. Brooks Busby of Santa Cruz received the silver medal and Alan Cobham of Rolling Hills the bronze.

Jr. Combined Training

The Elkridge-Harford Hunt Pony Club's Junior Combined Training Event, not limited to members of any Pony Club but merely for those under 21, was held on Sunday, April 10th at Fox Hill Farm, Fallston, Md. As usual it was a very cold day. Because of the large entry, it was necessary to start the Dressage at 11 o'clock, 2 hours earlier than anticipated, but at that the last horses were doing the stadium jumping in the twilight.

Miss Barbara Kemp of Montreal, Canada was overall judge and gave each contestant complete details of their dressage errors, written by Miss Diana Appleton, her recorder, also from Montreal. The cross-country was safely covered by most of the entries, barring a couple of involuntarys by some of the jockeys. Point of fact many of the spectators were amazed at the ease with which the young people negotiated the odd appearing obstacles, speaking well for the training they had had at home.

The Event was won by that ageless Welsh Pony, Matchmaker, who has competed in at least 4 Canadian International Rallies, as well as the same number in the U. S., ridden by his present owner Harriet Hebb, of the Green Spring Hounds Pony Club, having been inherited from Jean and then Donald Hebb in turn. Second place went to Linda Chapman, also of Green Spring Hounds Pony Club, on her grey "Easter Bonnet", schooled and broken entirely by herself. Equal thirds were won by two Potomac boys, Trippe Harting and Ray Little on their parents' hunters, who had competed the day before in their local Point-to-Point, possible as the junior cross-country was only a mile and one-quarter. Fifth went to Elmer Boblitz's well known show hunter "Home Again" ridden by Tommy Kees.

Pineway Riding Club

Blessed with beautiful weather, the Pineway Riding Club Show attracted over 85 horses this year, necessitating the running of classes simultaneously in both rings.

The outside course was certainly commendable, for it contained, beside the usual brush and post-and-rail type fences, a telephone log, stone wall (not wooden), "natural aiken" (obviously underbrush, not newly-bought greenery), and a ditch that had to be jumped twice. The course was open enough to allow a good mover to shine, had short enough turns to show off the handy hunter, and a larger, more gradual turn that gave the pullers away.

As for the 85-plus entries, they were all sizes and types. Probably the most regularly pinned horses were Helen McClure's honest old open mare, Ivy Ridge, and Mrs. Herman Wetzel's Gray Dream. Helen is doing a nice job in her first season of riding her own open horses; Bob and Sharon Hindle continue to share riding honors on the Wetzel horse which is consistently in the ribbons at all the local shows.

Also worthy of mention is a promising young rider, Carole Margolis, who won both the ASPCA and the 12 and under equitation. For one so young, Miss Margolis really has a way with horses, which she demonstrated in the open and working classes, and should go far in the riding field.

Virginia Polo

Ed Lovern

The University of Virginia's unbeaten poloists edged a two-goal Virginia Polo Association team, 7-5, in their fourth match of the Spring season. The Cavaliers, paced by Captain Will Farish with four goals, took an early first chukker lead and held their own till the final bell.

The University was awarded a one point handicap in the grudge match between the two Charlottesville area clubs played May 15 at Brook Hill Farm. As Don Grubbs, riding in the Cavalier offensive position scored in the first minutes of play, the hard-playing students showed they weren't looking for favors.

Seconds later, one-goaler Doug Nicoll slammed home the initial VPA goal to bring the score to 2-1. But Farish was right behind him to capture the next toss-in and give the Cavaliers a two goal lead with a mighty forehand from over 80 yards out.

The contest quickly developed to an excellent defensive battle of interceptions and back-hand checks. Nicoll took a well-placed pass from his number one, Henry Koch, for the second Charlottesville tally. His efforts were matched by Farish who scored in the final seconds of chukker two.

Neither team could crack the other's defense in the next period, and although the VPA kept the ball at the Cavalier goal for the 6 1/2 minutes, they were unable to find the uprights.

But with the next throw-in at mid-field, the University malletmen began to function like a team. Grubbs scored next; fighting off his guard all the way to the goal posts, he doggedly moved the ball from mid-field to put the Cavaliers ahead 5-2.

Again Farish and Nicoll exchanged points, the one-goaler taking advantage of the fine riding-off by teammate Herb Jones.

Farish added his fourth point of the day in period five with some fancy dribbling as he intercepted a VPA drive from his defensive position. Turning the ball nicely, the skillful Texan dribbled down the side boards, and blasted in an off-side shot from a forty-five degree angle.

Trailing by four goals, the Charlottesville horsemen buckled down in the final chukker. Again Jones and Nicoll collaborated with Nicoll taking the point through the goal posts as Jones blocked for him.

Fighting desperately against the effective Cavalier defense, Charlottesville held the ball in scoring position constantly but couldn't hit until Carl Barrett sliced a well-aimed shot through the entire opposition. Play ended with the VPA thundering down the field looking for another goal.

The Cavalier record to date stands at 3-1-0, with their having tied Cornell and beaten Georgetown, Princeton, and the Virginia Polo Association.

Blind Brook Polo

Polo at the Blind Brook Polo Club, Purchase, New York is showing every indication of the greatest season since its inception in 1922.

The United States Polo Association has announced that the National Inter-Circuit and the National 12-Goal tournaments have been scheduled for the Blind Brook Club beginning September 25th.

Beginning June 5th when Blind Brook gets into full swing, the United States Polo Association has sanctioned the Eastern Polo League, a 10 to 14 goal handicap operation, which has had entries from Westchester, Connecticut and Long Island.

William (Billy) Ylvisaker, former Yale star, has been elected president of the newly-reorganized Blind Brook Club. More than 50 members have been enrolled to date and it is expected that the roster will be swelled by others. In addition more horses have been stabled than at any time in the history of the Blind Brook club.

BOOK REVIEWS

THE HORSE THROUGH THE AGES, BY CECIL G. TREW, ROY PUBLISHERS, NEW YORK, 1960, pp. 75, ILLUSTRATED BY THE AUTHOR, $2.95.

Cecil Trew, author of that monumental work "The Accoutrements of the Horse", has written and illustrated an admirable brief history of the horse starting with prehistoric times and carrying down through the development of horses on the five continents to the modern Thoroughbred. Although the book is directed toward the large audience of readers generally interested in horses, it is also of interest to the specialist, since it contains the most recent research on the whole subject. The illustrations are excellent.

STEEPLECHASING IN AMERICA, EDITED BY JOHN E. COOPER, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, NATIONAL STEEPLECHASE AND HUNT ASSOC., NEW YORK, PUBLICATION COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN, S. BRYCE WING, 300 PARK AVENUE, pp. 152, ILLUS., $10.00.

This annual publication, covering steeplechasing in America during the year 1959, is the current volume of a series begun in 1948 and copyrighted by Triangle Publications, Inc. It contains the usual features, reviews of racing at the major tracks and at hunt race meetings, the leading horses, owners, riders and trainers, the officials of the various associations concerned with steeplechasing, etc. In the opening article "The Year in Review", John E. Cooper notes the opening of the new steeplechase course at New York's Aqueduct track; the various problems incident to construction work at this track at Belmont and at Saratoga; the institution of hurdle racing at River Downs, Cincinnati, Ohio, the eighth major track to sponsor jumping races; and experiments with new types of hurdle fences. During the year four major figures associated with steeplechasing passed away. These were Fred H. Parks, Secretary of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association from 1939 to 1946 and later representative of the Association in the Stewards Stand in New York; Harold A. ("Brud") Plumb, starter for the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association; Frederic H. Bontecou, M.F.H. of the Millbrook (N.Y.) Hunt and a leading steeplechase owner; and Frank A. Warton, former member of the Illinois Racing Commission, a member of the Orange County (Va.) Hunt and a member of the Hunts Committee of the N.S. & H.A.

Naturally this series is one of the cornerstones of any steeplechasing library.

Friday, May 27, 1960 Letters To The Editor

Many people, including myself, feel that the question of a delay in "finding and training a team of ponies and riders" (as quoted by you from "Horse and Hound") to win back the magnificent trophy, which our children were fortunate enough to gain at Madison Square Garden, does not arise. On the contrary, it is obvious that we should have had to put up a very fierce battle to stand the slightest chance of retaining it. However, I hope that in 1961 we shall have an opportunity to welcome the charming young American riders and their nice hunter-type ponies to this country.

Yours faithfully,
Phyllis Hinton, Editor,
"Riding"

"Unk"

Dear Mr. Burroughs:

Who will gainsay but that your treatise on "Etc" in 12 February Chronicle not only has restored a giant of the Turf to his (her) rightful place in the annals of racing, but has also added lustre to your eminence as a pundit? As one of your host of constant readers, I presume now to importune that your puissant pen be devoted to the restoration from obscurity and neglect of an equally important figure in the history of American blood-lines. I refer, of course, to "UNK" (all cap's). And UNK, like Etc, has been actually seen by no one of record.

I must say here that UNK's dominance never had been impressed upon me until I attended that horseman's Elysium, the Cavalry School of Fort Riley. This, in 1929, before World War II loused up the Army.

The practice at Fort Riley was to have each charger's breeding emblazoned on a board over the stall - painted, possibly, by the same gifted hand which painted the fourgon wagons and the G.I. cans in the troop streets. There, far outnumbering the get of that other hero of the Riley stud, "Gordon Russell", could be read, repeatedly, that simple, Doric-like cognomen, "UNK". I regret that I have no figures at hand as to the number of UNK's get, but they would astound one; and they proved their inherited quality and stamina over such varied terrain as Sheridan's Ridge and Whiskey Flats.

I say "it" in referring to UNK with aforethought, because he (she) must have had two features literally unheard of in any other sire (dam). He (she) was if I may use the word, hermaphroditic! Some of the post's horses were sired by HIM, some were out of HER. What is more, he (she) was - hold hard, now - both sire and dam of the same foal in many cases - and I'll bet that the vets ain't thought up a word for that, yet!

All of this may astound you. In fact, I sometimes doubt it myself. However, there must be extant other heroes of the peace-time Army, who still have some of their buttons and who can testify further as to the facts. If so, I pass the torch to you so that you may illuminate yet another notable page in the history of the horse in America.

Cordially yours,
Joseph J. Wall

Youngster Wants Information

Dear Sir:

I am a subscriber to your magazine and really enjoy it.

I thought maybe you could help me find out some information. I was wondering if you would know of any place that hires kids for the summer to take care of horses, exercise them, etc. I have inquired around where I live and haven't found a place, that's why I wrote to you.

I would deeply appreciate it, if you would let me know of any place. I wouldn't want any pay or anything; just being with horses and gaining experience would be enough for me and I am fourteen.

Sincerely,
Brian Stenfor

$248.50 More Mr. Clark

Dear Sir:

Re "Botanic" (R. J. Clark, pg. 9, Chronicle, May 6), this was a common looking sort of colt by Brasted out of Auctioneering, by Hawfinch, who won 6 races and placed 12 times in 5 years racing. We sold him at Saratoga, Aug. 13, 1924, for the Laurel Park Stud Company, of London, who that year sent 37 yearlings from England to the sales. I still have the elaborate catalogue they issued, with photos of the yearlings and their sires. The colt was well enough bred, though not "classically". Under George Bain's hammer he went for $250.00, NOT $1.50, as stated. That year 600 yearlings averaged $2,230, with many selling for $300 or less. "Botanic" was a bargain, for sure, as was Goldey F, a good filly sold years later for $150.00 and so may Globemaster be, (at $80,000.00) from the way he looks and runs. Times have changed and horse values are much higher these days than 25 years ago. However, I doubt that Fasig-Tipton Co., ever sold a yearling for $1.50, or anything like it, even though there have been numerous cases where horses went out of sales rings without a bid.

Sincerely,
Humphrey S. Finney, Pres.

"Enjoyed Your Worry"

Dear Sir:

Re Mimi Howard Gremlins.

Jiggers, Mimi - enjoyed your worry about the Gremlins and the glass. (Page 27, May 13).

Think it shows that some "spirits" moved someone into a "chase for the chasers."

Good Hunting - whatever the composition.

show money and was nine lengths in back of the two horse race. Charfran Stable's Frimanaha was fourth. The winning time was 1.35 4/5.

Irish Jay is a bay filly by Double Jay-Irish Witch, by Bold Irishman, trained by J. Fitzsimmons. She added $38,292.75 to her bankroll, which put her well over the $200,000 dollar mark.

Garden State Park

Fifteen 2-year-olds left the barrier in the 7th running of the Cherry Hill Stakes at Garden State Park, on Wednesday, May 18. The allowance stakes carried a $15,000 added purse for a five furlongs sprint. Fourteen of the starters may have well stayed at home in so far as the big share of the purse was concerned, as D. Ford and J. Kelty's Iron Rail romped in as he pleased ten lengths in front of M. L. Wilson's Song of Wine. Mrs. F. W. Hooper's Relative got the show money and Jumping Brook Farm's New Pepl, fourth money. Iron Rail's time was an outstanding .59 4/5 for the five furlongs over a track that was sloppy.

The winner is a bay colt by *Promethee out of the Bull Brier mare, Jackie Lee, bred by Mrs. A. G. Campbell, Jr. Jockey H. Hinojosa was the winning rider. It was Iron Rail's first stakes victory and fourth score in eight starts. He collected $12,760 bringing his earnings to $19,540. His trainer S. M. Rieser selected the youngster from the Keeneland Sales at the bargain price of $2,900.

His Texas-born jockey H. Hinojosa, who is of Mexican-Indian decent, reported that he took it a bit easy with the horse as his connections were not sure if he could run in the mud.

Camden Handicap

The 19th running of the Camden Handicap at Garden State Park, Saturday, May 21, drew seven starters. A handicap stakes it was run at a distance of one and one-eighth miles with a $30,000 added purse for the three and up participants. Jockey W. Boland had the winner in Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler who stuck his neck out in front of B. A. Dario's Gullio Caesere. J. F. Gagel's Reinzi was third and Gustave Ring's *Don Poggio, fourth. Manassa Mauler's time was 1.51 2/5 over a sloppy track.

The winner is a bay colt by Count Turf out of the *Sir Gallahad III mare, Escalade, bred by J. J. Amiel. F. Martis is his trainer and the score was worth $21,238.75.

Suffolk Downs Stakes

Suffolk Downs added $25,000 to the purse for its feature of Saturday, May 21. For 3-year-olds, it was run at a distance of six furlongs at allowance stakes conditions. J. Cavegnano's Boston Baker was a two and one-half lengths winner over Merrick Stable's John William. Charter Oak Stable's Brush Fire was third and Stoney Point Farm's George Barton was in the fourth slot. The time of 1.09 3/5 equalled the track record.

Boston Baker is a chestnut son of Bolero out of Ballarita, by Ballardier, bred by Mrs. J. Goodwin. W. Skuse was on Boston Baker and W. U. Ridenour trained him. The combination took down a purse of $17,616.25.

OTHER STAKES - Eight Again won the $15,000 added Tri-State Stakes at Balmoral (Homewood, Ill.) on Monday, May 16. The distance for the 3-year-olds was six furlongs. Eight Again is a chestnut by *Windy City II-Late Again, by Eight Thirty, bred by Duntreath Farm. His net take was $10,875. On the same day Bay Meadows (San Mateo, Calif.) staged its $40,000 added William P. Kyne Memorial Handicap, a one and one-eighth miles race for three-year-olds and upwards. This was won by Sea Orbit over Llangollen, the place horse, and Whiz Bam was in the show spot. Sea Orbit is a bay 4-year-old by *Orbit II out of Sea Flora, by Seabiscuit, bred by W. J. Thomson and W. H. Nichols. The first prize was $24,600 net.

Hollywood's Goose Girl Stakes, $15,000 added for 3-year-old fillies on Tuesday, May 17 was won by Novicia. She is a brown daughter of Novarullah-Quick Verdict, by Be Sure Now, bred by N. S. McCarthy. Her winning effort was worth $10,025.

Benedicto won the $25,000 added, six furlongs Clang Handicap at Balmoral. He is a 5-year-old son of Fighting Fox out of Davelle, by *Shannon II, bred by Motor Credit Co. Finnegan took the $50,000 added 7 furlongs Los Angeles Handicap at Hollywood Park. He is a 4-year-old chestnut son of *Royal Charger-Last Wave, by Bull Lea, bred by N. S. McCarthy. Both races were run on Saturday, May 21.

Little League Stuff

Baseball's "holier-than-thou" attitude in forcing one of its players to dispose of his racing interests brought to mind the discussion we had several years ago with an inveterate race-goer. It seems this fellow was introduced to baseball via T.V. through his son who had the "little league" bug. Our friend grudgingly admitted that he had gotten interested in the close games, but he couldn't understand why they did not make the parks a standard distance from home plate to each outfield. A pitcher was doing his best and in a critical moment up steps a big power boy and lofts a pop fly into the stands that a one-legged outfielder could have caught.

We informed him that on occasion the moguls running the game shortened the fences and introduced the lively ball in order to produce the home run in greater quantity.

His reply was, "You mean that they handicap the little fellows and make it easier for the power boys?"

Our reply was, "Yep," plus a few other adjectives.

THE CHRONICLE

He countered with, "Whatever for?" "To draw the customers, man."

He got off this one,

"Why the hypocritical money-grabbers and they are the ones who are always looking down their bluenoses at racing."

Our summation to the whole affair is that the big league operators are acting much smaller than the "little leaguers."

and one losing trainer explained how improperly it had been run.

Mr. Pitt, trainer of the winner, expressed the thought that if the boys had been planning a nice surprise for him they couldn't have done better than ride as they had.

The race was perfect for Bally Ache. He was allowed to go out on top and gallop at an easy pace for three-quarters of a mile; then he outsprinted the field home.

The quarter was recorded in :24 1/5, the half in :48 4/5 and the three-quarters in 1:13 2/5. When Bally Ache was asked to run, he left 'em behind.

At the eighth pole he was five lengths in front and he won by four.

No horse took a real shot at Bally Ache. Venetian Way, under Hartack, tried, but he just didn't have it.

Victoria Park beat out Celtic Ash for second place, without threatening the winner.

A Courageous Fourth

Larry Gilligan, who finished fourth on Divine Comedy, passing the dying Venetian Way in the stretch, delivered the happiest "jockey quote" of the day, and proved that this isn't such a bad, old world, if we'll just look at the bright side.

Said Larry: "He ran a big race. He just outgamed Venetian Way all through the stretch."

You never saw so much hugging and kissing as there was in the winner's enclosure after the race. Mr. Pitt, overcome by emotion bussed the nearest human to him, who happened to be a gent who didn't seem to appreciate it. Mrs. Joe Arnold, wife of the gentleman whose syndicate had laid out $1,250,000 a week before for Bally Ache, pressed her lovely lips against the horse's nose and Jockey Ussery's cheek.

The small black-eyed Susan bedecked yard was packed with TV men, politicians and owners of the winner. Everybody joined in the fun.

The $121,000 Bally Ache earned brought his lifetime total to $664,527.

Mr. Leonard Fruchtmann, paid $2,500 for the colt as a yearling and sold him to Mr. Arnold's group for a million and a quarter after winning $543,527 with him. Even without a replica of the Woodlawn Vase, he figures he is ahead on the deal.

Rose Tree

Maiden Timber Race

The Rose Tree Spring Maiden Cup, a 3 mile timber test for non-winners over timber found T. J. Albert's Clean Home and apprentice jockey J. Tyler both departing the maiden ranks. Taking command over the 11th fence Clean Home led for the balance of the journey to withstand Miss Marilyn Reid's Ben Cover by a neck at the conclusion. The latter was well handled by Jack Griswold. P. C. Baldwin's Fairplex and Edmund G. Miller's A Bit Late completed the finishing field.

The first of a trio of mishaps was brought off at the 11th fence, where Ferris Burg ran off the course with Charles Benzel, while leading. After nearly coming off his mount on three occasions during the running, John Bosley 3rd departed John D. Schapiro's *Ballyguy when the latter went to his knees on landing over the 18th jump. Bosley was rendered unconscious and removed to the hospital, where he was immediately released without injury. The final spill was registered over the 22nd and final fence when C. J. Meister, Jr.'s Goldover came down with H. (Jiggs) Baldwin without injury.

A field of 9 went postward for the Glen Riddle Plate, 2 1-mile turf race for maidens. Taking over command at the 3/4 mark, Robert B. Young's Old Chapel received an excellent ride from Jack Griswold to gain a head decision over Mrs. George Tener's Panga, ridden by A. P. (Paddy) Smithwick. Mrs. William Cox Wright's Big Gusher was 3rd, a length behind the embattled pair. Although a winner over jumps, young Griswold broke his maiden as a flat rider in 1:49.

The Sycamore Mills Plate, a route affair of 1 1/2 miles over the turf lured a field of 11 starters. Coming from 6th at the 1-mile mark, Mrs. T. A. Randolph's Fancy Hour closed with alacrity in the final 1/2-mile to defeat the front-running *Galley Hill by 3/4's of a length. Coupled with the winner as the D. M. Smithwick-trained entry, the Grandview Stables' *Kandy-Sugar was 3rd, 3 1/2 lengths off C. Mahlon Kline's import. Ridden by James Thornton, the winner was timed in 2:42.

The Keystone Stakes, a 6-furlongs race for horses foaled in Pennsylvania closed the day of sport with 5 of the original 7 nominees contesting the event. Chalking up a double for James Wyatt, Mrs. Fay Ingalls' Beau Jess led throughout to defeat the favored Slamtown, owned and bred by C. Mahlon Kline, by 1 1/2 lengths. Richard Atkinson's Royal Gray was 3rd. The 3-year-old filly by Shapoor-Beaubabs covered the short "about" 6-furlongs in 1:07.

THE JERSEY DERBY

The Jersey Derby, which was originally run in 1864 with Norfolk the first winner, is being revived this year on May 30 between The Preakness and The Belmont, as you probably know unless you have been dead for the past several months.

Although there are some people (including me) who feel that there may be too many expensive purses all over the place, it is hard to see anything wrong with reviving this old race and making another Derby for the three-year-olds to shoot at. If they had run it at six furlongs, there would be something to holler about. But at a mile and a furlong it seems dandy, even if one could dream of a mile and a half, hope for a mile and three eighths, and reasonably expect a mile and a quarter for a race called a Derby (I'm far out, man).

In any case, the reception by owners has been fabulous (I hate that word). A total of 137 nominations were received, which is a lot of nominations. Just to show how good the response to the Jersey Derby is, there were 142 nominations for the 1960 Kentucky Derby and 143 for this year's Belmont. I don't know how many there were for The Preakness but it was around 160. Thus, the Jersey Derby stacks up quite well with all three American classics and this is its first time out for quite a spell.

ALY KHAN KILLED

Prince Aly Khan, father of one of the Moslem world's most powerful religious leaders and heir to the late Aga Khan's Thoroughbred empire, was recently killed in an automobile accident in a suburb of Paris. He was also the Pakistan representative to the United Nations.

Himself an accomplished rider and winner of many amateur races on the flat, the Aly Khan continued in his father's footsteps as one of the leading Thoroughbred breeders of all time and promised to attain even greater heights. Last season his great filly Petite d'Etoile was undoubtedly the best horse in Europe. His death is a tremendous loss for the future of bloodstock breeding.

PONY AUCTION

May 5, 6 and 7 were the dates set for the north-west pony sale at the L.G. Prescott farm at Twin Falls, Idaho.

More than 300 ponies were placed in various lots with the top price paid for a Shetland mare consigned by Nathan Ball, Nampa for whom E.L. Watkins of Chico, California paid $1425. Another Nathan Ball consignment brought a $1100 bid from R. Peterson of Templeton, California.

Some 500 persons attended the sales and consignors and their ponies came from Missouri, North Dakota, Nebraska, Virginia, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Colorado, in addition to Idaho.

JOE GARRETT

Occasionally one reads of the tightrope walker who slipped in the bathtub and broke his neck or the test pilot who strangled on a fish bone. Well, here is one of that nature on Thoroughbred racing.

At Suffolk Downs they have an outrider named Joe Garrett. Of course, he works other places before racing starts at Suffolk and after the meeting is over there.

Joe Garrett this year made his first northern appearance in action on the opening day at Suffolk instead of starting earlier at Lincoln or somewhere else. Know why? He was laid up with rib injuries suffered last winter from a fall in his boat while he was fishing in Florida.

FITTING WIN

A few months ago The Chronicle published the account of the death of Mrs. Russell Howell, who was active in both the Groton and Millwood Hunts. Mrs. Howell died of a heart attack immediately following, in her own words, "the most perfect day's riding" she had ever had on her grey Thoroughbred mare, Jan Peel. Her death took place in the stable of her good friend, Mrs. Gilbert Lawrence, directly after dismounting.

Friends established a Margaret R. Howell Memorial Trophy for Best Ladies Hunter, to be presented annually at the Groton Hunt Horse Show.

For exhibitors and spectators alike, the most satisfying, breathtaking and heart-warming moment of the entire 1960 show, held Saturday May 7th, came when Judge Reed E. Graves of Lynchburg, Va. - a complete stranger to these Massachusetts horses and to the story of Mrs. Howell - found his first winner of the Margaret Howell Trophy in Jan Peel, her own beloved mare, after an absolutely faultless round with her new owner, Mrs. Gilbert ("Ollie") Lawrence.

BOB BECK WINS PENTATHLON

Lt. (jg.) Robert L. Beck of San Diego, Calif., the Navy's only representative of the U. S. Modern Pentathlon Team, recently won individual honors in the Fifth Annual International Pentathlon Meet between the United States and Mexico. He amassed 4,790 points in riding, fencing, shooting, swimming and running. His closest rival was PFC Paul Pesthy of Bogota, Colombia, now a resident in this country, who acquired 4,758 points. Beck thus became a member of the U. S. Team which met with four other nations in a pre-Olympic meet at Rome, Italy on May 25-29. Before joining the Navy he was an active competitor in Horse Trials (Combined Training Events).

CASTOR, ALBERTA LIGHT HORSE CLUB FORMED

Attesting to the sky-rocketing interest being shown by Albertans in light horses, is the formation, almost mushroom-like, of clubs and associations all over the province. The latest to be formed is the Castor Creek Light Horse Association, which is already laying plans for participation in that town's jubilee celebration this July 13th. Plans are to enter horses in the grand parade. Officers of the new club are Ronald Smith, president; Lester Kelly, vice-president; Victor Spady, secretary-treasurer; Andrew Wiart, director.

RACING PARSON

For years the Reverend John Gibson of Toronto, Can., had an ambition to own a race horse. He realized his lifetime objective this year at the age of eighty-four. "A Gem," his 3-year-old filly, got his new career off to a good start by winning the fourth race at Fort Erie, Ontario, Can., on May 2. The semi-retired minister's colors are black with a white reverse collar and a white halo on the left shoulder.

In days gone by a parson owning a race horse was not an unheard of occurrence. It was only when the bluenoses came to the fore that such ownership was frowned upon. After all these years maybe the pendulum is swinging a mite in the other direction.

AGED RACE TRACKERS

We think it is a pretty big deal when a horse like Malicious races until he is thirteen, which was the age that one had attained when he gave up making his wonderful stretch runs in California back in 1940. We also think it is a big deal when somebody like Earl Sande comes back at the age of 56 to ride a winner as he did at Jamaica a couple of years back. Those are rather some accomplishments all right, but dig this.

In Japan some time ago, a 14-year-old gelding won a race. But that is only half of it. His jockey was 72 years of age. One is led to wonder how old the owner was.

AMERICAN POLO TEAM TO PLAY IN ENGLAND AND FRANCE

Writing in a recent issue of "The Field", Brigadier Jack Gannon says: "It now seems likely that an American team will also come to England for the Cowdray Gold Cup, led by Mr. Alan Corey (handicap 9), with Juan Rodriguez (handicap 7) and Messrs. George Sherman Jr and Hudson. They will stay on for Goodwood Week and propose to go on to Deauville (France) in August."

Horse Trials

(Allen - Middleburg, Va.)

Technical advisor to the U. S. Combined Training Association, H. Stewart Treviranus, on the Texas-bred Thoroughbred Pentathlon, won the intermediate division of the Blue Ridge Horse Trials and had the fastest cross country time in the same division of the Loudoun Hunt event.

Miss Lana duPont on Toy Ghost, 1959 horse trials champion, won her first two starts in the open division this year - at Loudoun and at Blue Ridge where she is negotiating the "lumbercamp."

Mimi Jennings of Connecticut won the preliminary division of the Blue Ridge Horse Trials.

Jill Klein of Connecticut on Dr. J. M. Roger's Tall Chief won the preliminary division of the Loudoun horse trials.

Miss Elliott McElhinny on Tom Taylor's Small Change, 3rd in the open division of the Loudoun Horse Trials, takes the bank at racing pace.

Dennis Glaccum on the Jr. Essex Troop's Kilkerry took 2nd in the intermediate horse trials at Blue Ridge, first in the same division at Loudoun (where this picture was taken) and first in the open division at Elkridge-Harford.
